Crisis Intervention Team Training Course

Course Benefits

CIT program is a community partnership of law enforcement, mental health and addition professionals, individuals who live with mental illness and/or addiction disorders, their families and other partners to improve community responses to mental health crises. While CIT programs are known for CIT-trained officers, successful programs also focus on improving the crisis response system, advocating for needed services, and strengthening partnerships across the community.

Course Topics

Preparing for the training week

- Developing the most compassionate and effective crisis response system that is the least intrusive in a person's life.
- To help persons wwith mental disorders and or/ addictions access medical/mental health treatment rather than place them in the criminal justice system due to illness related behaviors.
- To foster and support a community-based partnership to effectively assist persons with mental disorders and/or addictions.
